A great Canada Day celebration

Artisans gather in Minden

This colourful display of quilts and clothing was just one of the many booths at the annual Minden Artisans Festival this past weekend at the community centre. Artists and craftspeople from throughout southern Ontario were on hand, along with hundreds of interested shoppers.

Teddies for kids by kids

The Minden Hospital had a special visit from Susan Pearson's Grade 4 class from Ridgewood Public School in Coboconk on June 25. The 26 nine and ten year-olds paid the visit to present 26 hand made teddy bears to the hospital's emergency department. The youngsters made the teddy bears to ease the children's trauma when they are being treated at the hospital's emergency department. The bears were made by the students over a two month period with materials provided by the Kinmount Artisans' Guild, of which Susan Pearson is a member. "We hope to do it again next year," Pearson said. "I'm going to try to get started by late September so we have some ready in time for Christmas." If all goes well, Pearson said she will try to get the students to make some in the fall and more in the winter/spring. Accepting the bears on behalf of the hospital was, Nurse Denise Northey, right.

Retiring directors honoured

Retiring chair of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, David Coulson, acknowledged the contributions to HHHS by three members who retired at the end of this term and one who died in the first year of his term.

Bill Payne

"Although Bill Payne only served on our board for a short time before he died, he made a very valuable contribution to our discussions," Coulson said. "As most people know, he had a long connection to Hyland Crest and was a frequent visitor with his group of musicians. Although we have missed his contributions to the board, I think that the residents of Hyland Crest have missed him even more."

Dr. Maurice Smith

Dr. Maurice Smith was elected to the board on June 25, 1998. He served on the Strategic Planning Committee and Governance and Planning.

"He was able to draw on his many years as a practicing physician to assist the board in its decision-making process," Coulson said. "The only time the board did not have his expertise was on those occasions when his Scottish dancing was in conflict

Fatal crash

A Minden resident died following a single car accident on Highway 35 just south of Minden.

Darren Cole, 31, was the lone occupant of a 2000 Ford Focus when it left the road and tumbled end over end between the edge of the ditch and a steep rock cut. The vehicle was travelling southbound at the time.

A driver, who had passed that location minutes earlier, reported seeing deer on the roadway. According to the police, the vehicle swerved into the northbound lane before entering the ditch on the west side of the highway. The driver was not wearing a seatbelt at the time and was thrown from the vehicle. Police have ruled out alcohol as a contributing factor.

Cole was a father of two and a volunteer member of the Minden Fire Department.

The funeral service was held Saturday.

Halls and Hawk Lakes AGM

Association forms own Privy Council

This is one lakefront property owners' association that is prepared to form its own Privy Council to get things accomplished.

At the annual meeting of the Halls and Hawk Lakes Property Owners Association the members endorsed a commitment of $500 this year, and $500 for four subsequent years (subject to an annual review) for the construction of an outdoor privy to meet the needs of people arriving at Big Hawk Landing.

The impetus to make the offer came after a lengthy discussion on the impact canoe trippers are having on the area around the landing. According to one observer, hundreds of people can arrive at the landing on a weekend. "What is the first thing they want to do when they get out of the car or off of the bus?" he asked. "The men are lucky, they can wander off into the bush."

Bruce Harris, the owner of Camp Kawabi, where the meeting was held, challenge Councillor Tom Gardner and the members of the association. "I can't believe that we are spending hundreds of dollars to inspect septic systems (in the northern portion of the municipality) or install privies on some distant camp site location and yet we have a problem right here at the landing. We know we have a pollution problem right here," he said. "I am sick of having these issues studied by committees."

With that he pledged $200 to the effort. Contractor Larry Hewitt who was in attendance suggested the cost of installing a concrete holding tank would be about $3200. He offered the use of his equipment to get the project done. Association president Alf

Jenkins suggested that a letter should be written to the municipality and the Leslie Frost Centre expressing concern over the lack of facilities. The motion was carried, but not before treasurer Charlie Robins noted that the constitution of the organization limited donations to 25% of its annual operating funds. A $500 donation would leave little more than $100 for other causes. "Do you want to raise the annual membership fee?" he asked.

Some members questioned the wisdom of paying for something that they as members would likely not use and was in fact the responsibility of the municipality. One member responded by pointing out that the association's contribution just could be the catalyst to make this happen. "This is seed money and a good idea," one member suggested. The president said it could help to spur the municipality into action. Several other members of the audience added contributions to the effort, which was dubbed the Privy Project. Donations can be forwarded to the municipal office for those wishing to add to the fund.

Before the issue was closed, Councillor Tom Gardner was asked to take the concerns of the organization back to the municipality. One member of the audience quipped that would make Gardner their Privy Councillor.

President's report

In his opening remarks, association president Alf Jenkins noted the meeting was being held on Canada Day. "Canada, this beautiful country is all around us," he said as he gestured to the forest setting of Camp Kawabi where the meeting was held. "We should all be very proud," he said, inviting the members to rise and sing the national anthem, which they did with enthusiasm.

He then introduced the members of the executive which included: past president Dave Bateson; vice president John Perkins; secretary Marg Darling; treasurer Charlie Robins; and directors, Dave Bulford; Elaine Berbridge; Joan Chisholm; Ron Greene; Rob Harty; Myrna McCarthy; Grant Montgomery and Fred Wellbourne.

The president said he was committed to stimulating membership growth, noting that participation had been dropping slowly over the years. He said flyers, explaining what the association does, were being distributed to all potential members. He asked those in attendance to assist in spreading the word about the organization.

The association attracted 237 members last year, 242 the year before and 283 in 1999. "I would like to get the members up to 300 or 350 by next year at this time," he said.

Other matters touched on in his remarks included the possibility of introducing the Cottage Watch program onto the lakes to help decrease break-ins. He endorsed the efforts of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers Associations (FOCA) for representing the interests of cottagers at a provincial level. Perkins also pointed out that the used to extremely bright lights is destroying what he described as, "the ambience of cottage country." He asked property owners

Festival season opens with a slice of Canadiana and a family reconciliation

The story of Tom Thomson and Algonquin Park is a significant part of the fabric of this land. His place in Canadian history was all but assured by his daring interpretations in oil paintings of the rugged northern landscape. Spurned by the conventional artistic community, he was part of an movement in the early part of the twentieth century that dared to step outside of the traditional in capturing the beauty, strength and power of the Canadian landscape. That legacy in and of itself would have guaranteed the young painter a place in the nation's history books.

But his story is about more than just breaking new ground in the world of art. It is about a man filled with passion for what he did and the world around him. A man living on the edge, challenging convention, seeing beyond what others see. It is the story of a man who died, 84 years ago.

The circumstances surrounding his death are shrouded in mystery. Was it murder at the hand of a rival for the hand of a local lass? Was it an accident? What happened to his hand-painted canoe that was recovered and then disappeared? How could the coroner declare the cause of death to be drowning without examining the body? What caused the bruise noticed on the side of Thomson's head? How accurate are the reports that no water was found in the lungs? Why was there fishing line wrapped around one of his ankles when the body was finally pulled from the lake?

The questions tumble one upon the other, most going unanswered. This is the stuff of legends. This is the material upon which nations build their myths, giving them character and meaning and definition. This is the legacy of Tom Thomson who died on this date, July 8, 1917, in the waters of Canoe Lake, Algonquin Park.

And this is the story, told in words and music, in the Highlands Summer Festival Production of Jim Betts' Colours in the Storm. Directed by Darrell Dobson with musical direction by Lorelyn Morgan, the production brings the experiences of Thomson to life in details as vivid and riveting as his paintings.

Led by Barrie Wood in the role of Thomson, the play traces his arrival in the park and his interaction with the residents of Algonquin. Some are welcoming, others challenge the "city slicker" who brings culture with him to the rude Canadian frontier. With his passion and drive Thomson changes how the people see the world around them, each other and themselves.

The music is a stirring tribute to the life of the painter and to the land he loved with such passion. It also speaks to

Merger Update #7

An important message for TD Bank and Canada Trust customers in Ontario.

Building A Better Bank For You

I am delighted to tell you that with this seventh update concerning the integration of TD Bank and Canada Trust, our integration is almost accomplished across Canada. Over the past two years, we've been working hard to lay down the foundation for building a better bank. In the last few months, our customers in other regions have begun to experience the changes and benefits from the coming together of our retail operations. In August, this experience will become available to the rest of our customers in Ontario. Our customers in Northwestern Ontario, including Thunder Bay, already underwent integration on the June 23rd weekend.

All our branches in your area will open on August 7th as TD Canada Trust, with a new look both inside and out. Our new brand name will appear on all cheques, statements, and correspondence.

Our banking services will be available by telephone through TD Canada Trust EasyLine™ and on the Internet through TD Canada Trust EasyWeb™ at www.tdcanadatrust.com. And our ABMs will offer a full range of banking services under the name Green Machine®. Since March, TD Bank customers have experienced some of these changes, but soon all our customers will enjoy these integrated services and retail banking products from TD Canada Trust.

What will not change as a result of the integration are our hours of operation – except to be extended at some branches – our service fees, and our commitment to building a better bank for you. We thank you for your patience as we make the transition to the new TD Canada Trust.

Canada Trust Branches Will Be Closed On The August 4th Weekend

In order to complete the integration to our new TD Canada Trust systems, all Canada Trust branches will close over the weekend of August 4th across Ontario, with the exception of Northwestern Ontario, including Thunder Bay.

Our ABMs will be open 24 hours a day so you can withdraw funds. And while Canada Trust customers will be unable to access Internet banking until the integration is completed during the weekend, both TD Bank and Canada Trust customers will still be able to bank by phone 24 hours a day.

Communicating With You

If you're a Canada Trust customer, you will have been sent an Accounts & Services Guide approximately 30 days in advance of the conversion weekend, detailing changes you will experience as a result of our integration. In addition, you'll receive a new TD Canada Trust Access Card™ closer to the time of integration to replace your current Canada Trust AccessCard, which will be deactivated on the August 4th weekend.

If you are travelling outside Canada during the summer, it will be important to check your mail for notices about your accounts to ensure your banking is uninterrupted.

Our Final Wave Of Integration In Ontario Follows Three Successful Integrations

Following your area's conversion, we will have completed the integration of our retail banking operations into TD Canada Trust all across Canada. All former TD Bank and Canada Trust branches will carry the new TD Canada Trust name.

In addition to bringing together our retail operations, over the last year we've also integrated our products and services. We've unified our discount brokerage operations and mutual fund arms, simplified our chequing and savings accounts packages, integrated the Estates & Trusts Services operations, combined our Private Investment Counsel and Private Investment Management businesses, and consolidated our telephone and Internet banking services into TD Canada Trust EasyLine and EasyWeb. Through these efforts, we've begun to deliver on our promise of building a better bank.

Some Branches Will Be Consolidated

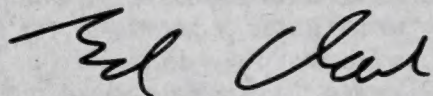

Many people have asked if we'll be consolidating any of our branches or re-locating them. Yes, we will. Retail banking customers who are affected will be given at least 120 days notification. In your area, this will begin as early as August, and integration related branch consolidations will continue to occur until 2003. Throughout this process, we will work carefully to minimize the impact on our customers and employees, and make choices to ensure the best service for our customers. For example, when two branches with different operating hours consolidate, the new branch will adopt the longer hours of operation. As well, we are committed to opening new branches: this year we plan to open at least 10 new individual branches, plus 40 new branches in retail outlets across the country.

Our Goal Is To Build A Better Bank For You

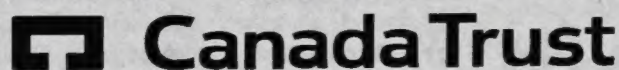

Bringing together two of Canada's largest financial service organizations is anything but simple. We will make mistakes. But we will move to correct any errors quickly, completely – and cheerfully. If you have any questions, or if you feel we are not meeting your expectations, simply call our TD Canada Trust Customer Information Line at 1-888-572-8924.

Let me close by saying how much we appreciate that TD Canada Trust is your bank. No matter how you choose to bank with us – in person, at an ABM, on the telephone, or over the Internet – you will receive high quality service and the ongoing commitment of our employees to build a better bank for you. That's why we are working hard to offer you the best possible banking experience in Canada.

Thank you.

Precious resource

Editorial

In the past, the discussion has been about the clarity of the lake water: how deep the secchi disc sank before it disappeared from view was a sign of the lake's health and the ongoing viability of its ecology.

Today, the questions have changed. Sure, waterfront property owners are still concerned about the clarity of the water and the phosphorus loading that generates the algae blooms and thick weed growth. They are well aware of the remedial measures too: ensure the septic system is operating properly; don't allow detergents to drain into the lake; eliminate the use of soaps and shampoos in the lake; stop using fertilizers on lawns; leave a buffer of natural growth between the lawn and the lake; keep the shoreline as "natural" as possible. Those who care about the future of the water, which is the centrepiece in what makes the Highlands so attractive, are aware of what they should be doing to protect it.

But now there is another question that is being asked, especially at lake association meetings: Just how safe is the water in our lakes and rivers? It is a question that has its roots in the crisis which gripped Walkerton just over a year ago. People want to know if the water they boat in, swim in and, from time to time, ingest, is safe. The short answer is no. But, long before there were cottages here that has always been the answer.

Lakes and rivers have always been subject to contamination. That is the way of nature. Animals die and decay and the results of that natural process makes its way into the watershed. Now the chances that this "natural" source of degradation will reach someone are remote, but as long as those odds are, it will be next to impossible to find an "expert" who is willing to stake his or her reputation on declaring any body of water is "safe." Not after Walkerton.

Does that mean our water is unsafe? Experts will tell anyone it is risky to consume water directly from any open water course. That is a fact today and it has been that way since water flowed downhill. No untreated or unboiled water drawn from a natural source should be considered safe. That is simply common sense. But, at the same time, we must not allow concern for the security of our water to generate unwarranted fears about its safety.

Common sense dictates that all open water sources should be suspect and that every effort should be made to ensure the purity of the water which is consumed. Likewise, we should spare no effort to protect this precious resource. Next to air, it is the most important component of life.

Time to finish the job

Editor:

I was one of the many people to watch that first and long awaited arrival of the Air Ambulance to our new showpiece here in Minden at the new Hospital.

Although it is not usually treated as being a good thing to see Bandage 1 arrive (it is usually associated with someone in distress), it does mark the arrival of the completion of one of this area's biggest projects of late.

Or so I thought.

As I watched it hover and take its first aim at the new helipad, it didn't take long to realized how much we were still lagging behind. Those blades spun that loose sand and rock around as though it was five mounds of feathers still perched on the pad. All I could say is thank god my car was not one of the several that got sand blasted Tuesday night!

And secondly, why are we still waiting for this Helipad to be completed? Surely this is one project that we have waited long enough to see completed and I would hope to see the Haliburton Highlands health services board put this as its number one priority.

Re: Hyland Crest Palliative Care Team is seeking volunteers (July 2).

While the Palliative Care team is very grateful for the coverage that The Times gave us, I was embarrassed that my name was given prominence, when many others have worked assiduously on the project.

These palliative care volunteers are of the quiet, gentle, caring type who give their service behind the scenes and receive little exposure. I would like them to have due recognition for the fine work that they do.

We do, however, need more helpers and thank you for highlighting this.

New association is just a distraction

Editor:

As a new resident to Minden, with a family history on Moore Lake that goes back five decades, the controversy over the Moore Lake Property Owners Association is at the very least an unwanted distraction.

It is already apparent that this organization is doomed before its first meeting, and while the unwanted distraction will then be gone, the fact is that Moore Lake could benefit from such an association. We will not have the types of community events for our kids that so many other associations organize, nor the great hats, t-shirts, sweat-shirts, bumper stickers, huge coffee mugs and newsletters that others enjoy.

I guess the next question is whether having all of the above trinkets and activities is worth creating another quasi-level of pseudo-government. At this point in time my vote is unfortunately NO.

I guess I will just have to enjoy my families' little part of heaven drinking my morning coffee from a plain white mug, pondering my sticker free bumpers, wearing my Homer Simpson t-shirt or my I AM CANADIAN sweat-shirt and my Kawartha Dairy Holstein cap while reading the Minden Times and driving to town so the kids can go to the one of the C.H.A.C.E. events they cherish so much, or taking them for a three hour cruise down to Elliot Falls for a swim at the boat launch.

Life on Moore Lake, East Moore and the few miles of the Gull River will continue long after this re-incarnation of a Lake Association.

A great day

Editor:

Seeing the scores of terrific young people at our first Canada Day celebration as Minden Hills, I don't think we need to worry about our country's future. The kids were polite, well-behaved, yet enthusiastic about everything.

It's hard to find the proper superlatives to describe the results of the hard work and planning done by the Canada Day Committee volunteers and our Minden staff. There were neat touches, like the lady from Ottawa who led us in singing "The Maple Leaf Forever", the great music of our local groups and the Back 40 Music Man, and the tremendous Crazy Raft Race to name only a few. Even God had mercy and shut off the rain, although He left the wind machine on.

Let us hope that everything else happening in 2001 goes as well.

Up, up and away

I don't mean to rant but...

Okay, that's a lie. I do mean to rant.

This week's vial of venom is aimed squarely at a national corporation that sooner or later impacts on all our lives. And it proceeds from a simple, skill-testing question.

My question is: Have you flown Air Canada recently?

No?

Are you planning to? If so, have you considered your options?

Hitchhiking? Pogo Stick? Suicide?

If there was ever an almost living, barely breathing monument to the folly of monopolies it is this country's national air — it is to laugh — service.

Recently I booked an Air Canada flight out of Vancouver to Fort McMurray. Aware that Air Canada was going through what it is smugly pleased to call 'growing pains', I made sure I got to the airport two hours before flight time. Almost missed my flight.

Before I could even check my bags, I was swept into a huge holding corral with about a hundred other wannabe travellers. For over an hour we snaked our way towards the check-in counter at the speed of the Wisconsin Glacier. There were six ticketing stations waiting for us at the end of our pilgrimage. Six stations, of which, thanks to Air Canada's slash and burn layoff policy, precisely two had working agents.

I'm not saying that Air Canada has deteriorated to the status of a Third World airline, but the scene definitely had vibes redolent of the Fall of Saigon. People were pleading with other would-be passengers in front of them, to please let them go ahead as their flight was leaving in ten minutes. Five minutes. Two minutes. Never mind.

The woman in front of me - she'd lined up for 45 minutes with two overtired kids, just to be told that her flight was overbooked - was weeping. The rest of us were seething.

We would have loved to unload on some - any - Air Canada representative, but aside from the two overworked ticket agents, our national airline was without representation. When I finally got to the agent, I asked him who I could phone, fax or firebomb to communicate my intense displeasure.

He looked me in the eye and said, "You know what you should do sir? You should contact your MLA or MP and tell them what's going on here...because I can't believe the way my company is treating its customers."

Well, I was lucky. I actually made it to my destination on the same calendar day indicated on my ticket.

But I was still feeling a little snakebitten when it came time for the return trip to Vancouver. I had to change planes in Edmonton which doubled the screwup potential. Naturally, things went wrong. The flight was overbooked and consequently delayed. Which meant the twenty minute connecting window had evaporated before I even touched down at Edmonton.

I grabbed my bags and galloped off the plane and across the tarmac. I had already ascertained that the gate I had to get to was about as far from the gate I disembarked at as could be without actually crossing Edmonton city limits. I humped through the terminal, sweating and cursing. And was well past the point of no return when I realized I had left my jacket on the plane.

When I reached the boarding gate I was too tired to be outraged. I approached the Air Canada agent and murmured fatalistically that I had left my coat on the plane. She looked up brightly. "Oh? Which flight were you on sir?" I told her. "No problem" she said "I'll just call Betty"

And picked up her telephone and dialed. Except, naturally, no one answered. "Right" I said to myself. "Now comes the game of bureaucratic snakes and ladders. "If you'd just fill out this form in triplicate sir date of flight, flight number, time of arrival, description of the lost property as to size, weight and shape, approximate value of lost property, business and home address and hours during which someone will be home to receive..."

Except there was none of that.

She put down the phone and smiled, "No one seems to be answering. I'll go and get your jacket for you." And she did. She was gone for twenty minutes - which was faster than I could have made the round trip - and returned with my jacket neatly folded over her arm. I was so utterly disarmed, I didn't even think to get her name.

Interesting lesson in sociology though - how a faceless corporation can piss you off to the point of incoherence...but a single human gesture can cancel out the bile.

So...a toast. Not to a company but to the people in the company who have to carry the can for the company's calculated and callous incompetence.

Here's to the employees of Air Canada. Cheers, folks.

Your company doesn't deserve you.

The 3 Rs

Editor:

Compost and Recycle: it helps our world. If you don't recycle, it is polluting and where would they put the garbage when the dump is full? Well, I will tell you, they cut down trees (forest) or land sites. Put a dump there. Maybe your back yard will be turned into a dump or your home will be destroyed and a dump will be there.

Also, when you recycle it cleans our air, water, saves trees and animals won't go extinct faster.

Recycle - cans, newspapers, magazines, phone-books, TV guides, brown paper bags, catalogues, plastics, boxes and more. Don't recycle one-way bottles because they can't be recycled. You can reduce or reuse them. So recycle.

Also, compost food scraps like banana peels and a lot more. Do not compost anything that is meat because we need to do something with our garbage.

Great production

Editor:

Those involved in the hospitality industry were invited to see a special preview performance of the Highlands Summer festival production of Colours in the Storm. I won't tell you what its about. You'll just have to go and see it for yourself

A great round of applause goes to the Highlands Summer Festival. The show was so good, I sent my order in for the other three productions. It is definitely a "must see"--even if you think you are not a theatre-goer.

June weather

Average high	26.2	79.7
Average low	10.1	50.1
Average for the month	18.1	64.5
Average for last June	16.3	61.3
Highest temp. June 14	34.0	93.2
Lowest temp. June 9	3.5	38.3
Rain	106.2 mm	4.1 in.
Total precip. last June	117.2 mm	4.6 in.
River temperature June 30	24.5	76.1
Days mostly sunny	15
Days with rain	9
Days with thunderstorms	1
Mornings with frost	0

The first five days were quite cool, but from then on, lots of sunny weather. The average temperature was several degrees warmer than last June. The rainfall was slightly less than last June. We had one inch of rain first four days of the month plus a few showers but most of the rain occurred on June 21 and 22 (64.8 mm or 2.5 inches) very heavy, the most recorded at this location for some time. That was the night when most people in the area were awakened by the "Boomer": it sounded like an explosion. It was an isolated lightning strike at 12:25. Known in weather descriptions as a "positive strike". There was no thunderstorm around before or after. There was some electronic equipment damaged and one house struck and their dog did not survive. Sorry Les and Lorna. Other than that, it was a normal June and lots of blackflies!

Little NHL coming the to Highlands

Here is some information on the brand new County League (or the "Little NHL" as we like to call it). If you are interested for next season please call Wade MacInnes at 705-457-2359 before July 15 so we can plan appropriately.

The Little NHL is an opportunity for all boys and girls to play some fun hockey at a very low cost. Players will practice once a week at the closest arena in Minden or Haliburton. The players will also have one game a week at alternating arenas.

At the beginning of the season players will be "drafted" onto equal calibre teams. There will be a buzzer system to ensure equal ice time for all players and to ensure players of similar calibre play against each other.

The format will include a regular season schedule and a year-end playoff tournament, where all players will receive awards. The players will wear NHL replica jerseys that will be supplied.

The Little NHL will be about fun, good exercise and teamwork. Playing in the Little NHL will be all players aged seven or under (except for those players who make the Tri-County Tyke team). Also eligible are older players who are just starting in hockey or those players who don't want to play on travel teams. We also need parents who would like to volunteer for a variety of coaching positions.

A used equipment sale will be held prior to the start of the season.

Special thanks to the following schools for their support of the Little NHL - Archie Stouffer, JD Hodgson, Wilberforce and Gooderham.

Trillium barbecue fund-raiserLawn bowlers raise $300

by Jim Hindle

The Minden Indoor Lawn Bowling Club held a very successful Trillium fund-raising barbecue at the home of Lorraine King on Wednesday, June 27. The event raised over $300. Nearly all our members attended and enjoyed a very entertaining afternoon in spite of the very warm weather. Once again, the Fund-Raising Committee, consisting of Muriel Harrington, Laura Carnegie and Laurel Tompkins, is to be commended for a job well done. Doris Ogley also donated several homemade pies, which were quickly snapped up in a raffle by our Treasurer, Ross Farr. President Howie Ryan and an assistant handled the barbecuing duties and last, but not least, a big thank you to Lorraine for hosting the barbecue in her beautiful back yard.

It is still not too late to join our club and enjoy the activities, so why not drop in at the Minden Curling Club during bowling hours or come to our fun night on Friday evening, starting at 7 o'clock. Any of our members would be only too willing to answer questions or give a lesson in lawn bowling. Try it, you'll like it!

Hole-in-one

Tuesday, June 19 is a day Mary Davis is not likely to soon forget. Davis, a member of the Haliburton Highlands Ladies' Golf League, was golfing the Blairhampton links when she scored a hole-in-one.

Davis teed up on the 114-yard seventh hole and aced the shot with a five wood.

Witnesses to this golfer's dream included Margaret Smith, Suzanne Vivien, Liz Mahaffy and Riina Ennist.

Retiring board members thanked

with our meetings. "We will miss his words of wisdom."

Ted Wilkes

Ted Wilkes is one of the last founding members of the Acting Health Services Board. During his tenure on the board, he served on the Finance and Planning Committee and in 1999-2000 he chaired the Finance Committee. He was also vice-chair of the board. "As chair, I greatly appreciated his comments at the board and the Executive Committee," Coulson said.

Wilkes also attended meetings of the Joint Executive Committee.

"During his time with the JEC, he led a group that tried to get ambulance services co-ordinated on a regional basis," Coulson noted. "Although it was unsuccessful, Ted put a lot of work into that initiative."

"I always appreciated Ted's words of wisdom because he always ensured that the southern part of the region was considered," Coulson said. "Being from Gooderham, I frequently shared Ted's view about the needs of communities outside of Haliburton and Minden."

Wilkes has been a driving force behind the creation of the Kinmount Health Centre. He spent a lot of time investigating community health centres, trying to find ways to get ministry funding and learning how to recruit physicians.

"I have always been impressed with his dedication and commitment to getting the job done," Coulson said. "He doesn't take no for an answer and he has a great way of getting people to work for him."

"Ted, you have made a wonderful contribution to your community with the development of the Health Centre and the recruitment of a physician," Coulson said. "You are a great example of the influence that one person can have on health care. I am proud to have had the opportunity of working with you and I am going to miss your contributions to the board. On behalf of the board and the community, I would like to thank you for a job well done."

Doug Campbell

"Doug Campbell's interest in health care goes back many years," Coulson pointed out. "In fact, his interest in health care goes back further than our records do and I have to go to Jack Brezina and the newspaper to find out the real scoop about Doug."

Coulson said that Campbell was a member of the Board of St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough at one time and he fought hard to keep the Minden Hospital open.

"I first met Doug when he was a member of the Planning and Development Committee and we did the initial planning for the redevelopment of the two sites," Coulson said. "Doug was an active member of the Minden Community Committee for Physicians and helped get a group of physicians from outside the community to staff the Emergency Department. He went on many recruitment tours trying to attract physicians to the board."

As a founding member of the Health Services Board, Campbell was committed to ensuring that the building program was going to be on-time and within budget. "He never wavered from that commitment and I'm not sure how Bradscott Construction could have got the job done without Doug looking over their shoulders at every move. It was great for me because I could always phone Doug and find out exactly where the project was at. He knew when every brick was to be laid. His many years of construction management with Ontario Hydro sure was of great assistance to our board. Without Doug, I'm not sure that we would have the new windows and the insulation in the oldest part of Hyland Crest.

"Doug, we are going to miss you on the board. We are going to miss the way you cut through the rhetoric to get right to the issues. We are going to miss your colourful language. We are going to miss your stories about Hydro. But, most of all, we are going to miss your dedication and commitment to your community. You have served your community well. You have served your community well. Thanks for a job well done."

Closing remarks

This will be my last time to speak to you as Chair of the Board," Coulson said. "I have enjoyed the opportunity of serving as chair of the board over the past two years. We have accomplished many things — new programs, expanded budgets, new facilities and new equipment."

"But to me, the greatest accomplishment has been the ability to draw upon the resources in this community to build a great organization. It is the people in this organization who make it great; not the equipment; not the buildings. We have great staff. We have a dedicated medical staff. We have a great administrative team. And we have the best health care board in Ontario."

"I am always amazed at the quality of people who have volunteered to be members of this board. They have wonderful skills, great experiences and they are committed to making sure that we have the best health care services as possible in this community."

"It has been a pleasure to be your chairman. I look forward to continuing to work with the new chair, the vice chair and the rest of the board in making our dream for a great health system come true. Thank you."

New board members

The new members of the board include: Jeanne Anthon, Rob Eaton, Margaret Risk and Peter White, who was appointed by Victoria County and is now an elected member of the board.

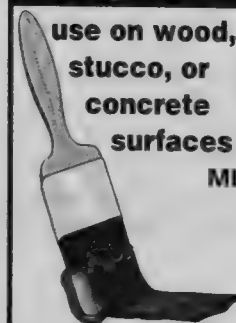

The board has also elected its executive for the coming year. Jack Brezina will take over as chair of the board. Vice chairs for the coming year will be Don deMaio and Dr. Dick Charron. Betty Moffatt was elected secretary/treasurer.

Ted Wilkes, one of the last founding members of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, has retired. He will take more time to enjoy golfing and curling with his wife Ruby.

those who share his love of the rugged beauty. We see in the songs and dialogue visions of the land we know, the land whose rugged beauty is still like a magnet. The cast of nine, some playing multiple roles, captures the essence of the Thomson story and brings to life the passion he must have felt for this part of the country. It is hard not to be moved by the beauty of the music, the excitement of the story and the realization that this is our story, part of the myth we call Canada and it happened right here where we live.

Also in the cast is Chris Archer, Brendan Berube, Curtis Eastmure, Lauren McInnes, David Mills, Camilla Pettit, Tom Regina and Elke Zilla. Musical accompaniment provided by Melissa Stephens, Brian and William Tink, Maradyn Wood, Curtis Eastmure and Tom Regina.

Colours in the Storm opened this season's Highlands Summer Festival on Tuesday, July 3 with a second performance July 4. Both evenings drew close to capacity audiences and we suspect this will be one of the hardest tickets to find for the five remaining stagings: July 11, 19, 23, August 2 and 10.

I Ought to be in Pictures

After being abandoned 16 years earlier in New York, a teenage girl searches out her father in Los Angeles. On the surface, her goal is to use his influence to get herself a job in the movies, but as the Neil Simon play I Ought to be in Pictures unfolds, it becomes obvious that the search is taking the characters on a trail of self discovery.

This is vintage Neil Simon at his best. The veteran American playwright quickly establishes the comedic context for the story and then peels away the various layers as he delves ever deeper to the core of the human experience and relationships. As the errant father and curious daughter jockey for position they uncover as much about each other as they do about themselves.

I Ought to be in Pictures is a tightly scripted Highlands Summer Festival production of I Ought to be in Pictures.

hands of Highlands Summer festival Artistic Director Barrie Wood as the father, the talented Carrie Heyes as the daughter and Lorelyn Morgan as the friend who helps the father and daughter come to terms with their differences and discover the many things they share, despite the 16 year gulf which has separated them.

This is a poignant piece of writing that tickles the funny bone and touches the heart. Directed by Darrell Dobson, I Ought to be in Pictures is the second gem in the Highlands Summer Festival season. It opened July 5 with a second performance July 6. It is also scheduled for July 13, 18, 24, 30, and August 8.

Tickets for the Highlands Summer Festival, $16 each, are available through the box office at 705-457-9933. All performances take place Monday to Friday at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion in the high school in Haliburton. Curtain is 8 p.m.

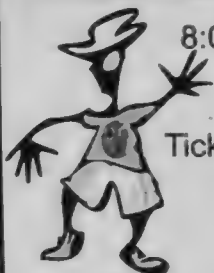

Opening this week is the Alan Ayckbourn comedy How the Other Half Loves, July 9 and 10; and the classical music tour through time, Tempus Fugit, July 12.

Barrie Wood as Herb rebuilds the relationship with his daughter, Libby, played by Carrie Heyes in the Highlands Summer Festival production of I Ought to be in Pictures.

Vintners' skill will be tested at Fall Fair

by Jennifer Minto, Reporter

The Minden Agricultural Society is geared to venture into an event that they have never tried before.

This year the society will introduce a Wine Tasting and Judging competition at the Haliburton County Fall Fair. The judging will take place just before the actual fair.

"As we are an agricultural fair," convener Gwen Robinson said, "this would fall directly into one of the Fair's categories."

The event will be held in the home of Geoff and Gwen Robinson, members of the Minden Agricultural Society, sponsors for Haliburton County Fair.

Due to the provincial regulations, the judging of this event must take place in a private home and only ribbons can be awarded as prizes. The Robinsons have volunteered their residence for the occasion.

"It's promotion for the fair," said Geoff Robinson, last year's Haliburton County Fair President. "New events are always welcomed. They help to increase the awareness and profile of the annual exhibition."

Since space is limited, only the first ten individuals to register will be accepted. There are five spots allotted for the kit production category and five for vintners who make their wine from scratch. First and second place ribbons will be awarded for white and red wines in each category. Each participant will be required to bring two (750 ml) bottles of wine per category entered.

The judging will take place on Wednesday, August 8 at 7 p.m. at the Robinson home. For any further information all are welcome to call Gwen at (705) 457-2880.

Gwen and Geoff Robinson toast the new wine competition that has been added to the Haliburton County Fall Fair.

Dave Coulson retires as HHHS Chair, turns over reins to Jack Brezina

"I know that Dave's car will be pleased to hear that he is stepping down as the chairman of the HHHS board," quipped Jack Brezina, who is following in Coulson's footsteps as chair of the board. "As a resident of Toronto who has a cottage in Gooderham, his car must have seen many thousands of extra kilometres as he fulfilled his responsibilities to this organization, both here in the Highlands and at the Joint Executive Committee meetings in other parts of our region."

Brezina said he firmly believes the success of the board is based on the fact that it has been able to overcome barriers that often divided communities.

"HHHS has brought together individuals from across the region and asked them to work together for the common good and they have done so," Brezina said. "Dave's participation and leadership is an important example of that effort, tapping into the expertise and enthusiasm of seasonal residents who are so vital to our area and who are eager to contribute to its well-being."

Brezina noted that Coulson has been a part of the process longer than most people may realize. "One of the key elements of the Planning and Development Committee's report, the report that initiated the return of the health care governance to the Haliburton Highlands, was a consultant's report by Coulson and Associates, a company Dave headed," Brezina said.

"As a follow-up to the study, Dave chaired a pivotal visioning session which brought together various individuals from across the county. This session, I believe, helped many realize there was more to be gained by working together than in pursuing our separate interests. The fact that we are here today, offering a wide variety of services in two key locations as well as throughout the county is a testament to the vision that he helped bring to the surface."

Brezina said the HHHS is pleased that Coulson agreed to be a part of the board, the executive and to take on the chairmanship of the board.

"We have all been able to benefit from his broad knowledge of the health care field," Brezina said. "He has guided us through an important post construction period and the introduction of new services. Dave also took a strong leadership role at the regional level, chairing the Joint Executive Committee through its formative years."

Brezina said the HHHS looks forward to Coulson's continued participation in the activities of the board in the years to come.

On behalf of the members of the board and the staff of HHHS, Brezina presented Coulson with a token of appreciation for his two years as chair of the board and the many years of caring about the health of the highlands.

THANKS DAVE: Jack Brezina, Chair elect of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, left, presents retiring chair Dave Coulson with a token of appreciation for his work on the board.

Water levels a concern on the Hawk Lakes to use lower powered lights so as not to be intrusive on others on the lake.

Water levels

Vice president John Perkins told the meeting that water levels are close to average for this time of the year, about 1.5% below "normal". Perkins said he had contacted Bruce Kitchen of Parks Canada, the federal agency responsible for setting the water levels throughout the Haliburton Highlands. He said Kitchen is eager to keep the association informed about its efforts and how decisions are made regarding drawing down water. Little and Big Hawk lakes in particular are affected by reductions in water levels as the season progresses. Many of the properties on the lakes are accessible by water only and so major drops can leave cottages unreachable.

Water quality

Lake Steward Bill Jameson reported that phosphate levels were slightly elevated last year. He asked property owners not to use soaps, such as shampoos, in the lake. "I still see people doing that," he commented. "It adds to the phosphate loading and that is not good for the lakes."

He also responded to questions about the presence of e-coli in the water of Clear Lake, which feeds into the Hawk Lake system. He said that testing was carried out by the Frost Centre staff near some heavily used campsite on the lake and the contamination was found.

He pointed out that the presence of e-coli in lake water is not uncommon and it can come from any number of sources, including decaying animals, heavy camping activity, improperly operating septic systems and others. He suggested that the water from any of the lakes in the area should not be consumed directly. Lake water should be boiled before using, but it is not unsafe to swim in. "This is not the same e-coli that caused the problems in Walkerton," he said.

Another member of the audience pointed out that the Hawks and Halls Lakes are ideally located, since they are at the upper end of the watershed. The lakes are flushed out on a regular basis and there is not much upstream to create contamination. He said however, that there is no reason to be complacent about the condition of the water and care should be taken to ensure contaminants are not added to it.

Frost Centre

Keith Clark, director of the Leslie M. Frost Centre, was in attendance to explain some of the programs and activities currently taking place at the facility on Highway 35. The Crown land which is part of the centre, extends around the Hawk lakes and some activities such as canoe trips use the Hawks and Halls lakes.

Clark told the meeting the centre has embarked on a marketing to attract people to the facility. "We have opened our doors to the public as an education centre," he told the meeting. The centre is still heavily used by school groups during the September to May period, but during the summer it has programs designed for the general public including a variety of classes on lake stewardship. It also hosts a series of "Discovery Days" in which a specialist in a particular field, such as botany, geology or ornithology, provides an interesting and informative seminar, often involving a field trip or a hands on experience.

He said a committee has been formed, which is open to the public, to help guide the use of the centre. Members include representatives of adjacent landowners, members of the lake association, users of the Frost Centre facilities and groups concerned with conservation and wildlife management.

"We have a real jewel here," he told the meeting, "but we want to protect it. That is why we have invited user groups to participate in the planning of activities and use of the resource."

He noted that, as Crown land, it is open for anyone to use. But he wants the users to also be a part of the effort to protect "the jewel" from degradation. He cited as an example, the impact campers are having on a number of locations on Clear Lake. "We would like to steer people away from the heavily used campsites, to give them a chance to recover," he said, but it requires input from everyone involved.

The members of the association had a number of suggestions for the director, including limiting access to certain areas. Clark said there has been a concerted effort to contact regular users, such as camps, to include them in finding a solution to problems. He also pointed out that there are unorganized groups or groups from outside the area who are not being reached because of the unrestricted access to the area.

One member of the association wondered if others had ever seen canoe trippers packing out garbage generated on their trip. It was suggested that some burn or bury their waste while other let it sink to the bottom of the lake, a scenario which most found objectionable.

Harris said that even if canoe trippers packed out their garbage, there is no place to put it once they reach the landing. "You don't believe they are going to take a wet bag of garbage with them all the way to Toronto, do you?" he asked. "With all the taxes we pay, some method of collecting that garbage should be provided by the municipality," Harris said. "We will have garbage all over the place if we don't provide a place to put it."

It was pointed out that if the municipality provided a garbage collection service at the landing, it would be filled in little time with refuse deposited by cottagers.

Concern was also expressed for groups who descend on the area unannounced. One participant said a group of canoeists walked through the middle of a deer hunt last November. None of them was wearing blaze orange. He suggested this was a very dangerous situation.

Council presentation

Algonquin Highlands Councillors Tom Gardner and Jim Hicks were in attendance to report to the meeting. (Reeve Harrison was unavailable to attend.)

Gardner noted that as a result of amalgamation, the municipality of Stanhope had joined with Sherborne et al as of the first of the year. The new municipality has been named Algonquin Highlands. "We are working well together," he said, with the consolidation of bylaws and other aspects of municipal administration moving ahead.

He noted that the municipality is carrying on with the septic tank inspection in the north end of the jurisdiction and could extend it throughout the township. Those properties which are being inspected are being assessed an additional $72 to cover the cost. "We hope to introduce this process to the rest of the municipality" Gardner said.

The councillor noted that the "life" of the Hawk lake landfill site has been extended thanks to the results of recycling and waste diversion.

He said it may be a week or more before the municipality can announce its budget. "We are waiting for the province to provide information."

Gardner also noted that the municipality will be hosting, in conjunction with Minden Hills, a hazardous waste collection day August 4. Residents will be able to take hazardous waste such as old paint cans, pesticide containers, propane tanks and batteries to the Pine Springs Landfill site for collection. A similar opportunity will be offered at the Scotch Line landfill Site north of Minden for Minden Hills residents.

In response to questions from the members, Gardner said the mail in ballot was considered a success with the municipality seeing a 38% participation rate in the November election compared with 10 or 12% in the past. "It was more expensive, but appeared to be a better way to go." He also noted that

Old fish

Before the meeting closed, Larry Hewitt, head of the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association (HHOA) described some of the group's work. The HHOA has worked closely with the lake association in preserving and expanding the range of the Haliburton Lake Trout known locally as "Haliburton Gold". The fish is a relic from the age of glaciers, 10,000 years ago. In isolated lakes it developed distinct characteristics that make it unique from other lake trout populations in the province, including its smaller size, strong fighting ability and delicious, salmon-coloured flesh. The HHOA, working with the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Ontario Federation of Angler and Hunters has worked to protect this unique strain of lake trout and expand its range. Working with cottage associations throughout the Highlands, it has enhanced spawning opportunities for lake trout and raised fingerlings in captivity for planting in selected area lakes.

Volunteers work in the hatchery, located just south of Haliburton on Country Road One, stock lakes, assist in habitat rehabilitation, gather research data, fund raise and undertake public relations efforts to keep the community informed about its efforts.

Prostate cancer group holds inaugural meeting

--submitted--

The Haliburton Highlands Prostate Cancer Support Group's inaugural meeting was held on Tuesday, June 26. Thirty people came to hear Dr. M. Weir, a Urologist with the Peterborough Burnham Clinic speak on various subjects relating to prostate cancer. Topics included:

- the importance of an annual physical examination, which should include a digital rectal exam (DRE) and a Prostate Specific Antigen (PSA) blood test
- the use of PSA testing as a screening tool and the controversy of the test

• symptoms such as frequent urination, weak or interrupted urine stream, or a feeling that your bladder isn't completely empty often indicate a problem which could be prostatitis (inflammation), BPH - benign prostatic hyperplasia (enlargement) or more seriously, prostate cancer

• the different treatment options available discussed were watchful waiting, surgery, radiation and drug therapy

• dietary requirements - less meat and fat and more antioxidants, such as tomatoes, broccoli and supplements (selenium, etc) should be a major part of everyone's diet to help prevent cancer

Dr. Weir finished his presentation by answering many questions from the audience.

Our second guest speaker, Derek Lawrence, Ontario Co-ordinator for the Canadian Prostate Cancer Network. He shared his personal story of the discovery and his fight with prostate cancer. He hopes other men will learn from his experience and in doing so, prolong their lives.

The evening can be best summarized by the statement that, "prostate cancer is an insidious disease that is fought through early detection, knowledgeable patients and ongoing research". It can happen to any man at any time.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 24 in the auditorium at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home in Minden. It will feature Dr. Michael A.S. Jewett, University Health Network, speaking on the subject of "New Treatments for Prostate Cancer: Robotic Surgery and New Radiation Techniques"

City of Kawartha Lakes Residents Have you Bought your Mulching Blade?

Why rake and bag your grass when you can leave it on your lawn. Grasscycle instead! By leaving your clippings on the lawn, nutrients will be returned to the soil, and your lawn will require less frequent watering. Grasscycling also saves valuable landfill space. You can practice grasscycling with any lawnmower, but by using a mulching blade you can chop the grass 3 times finer. Right now the City of Kawartha Lakes is subsidizing the cost of the mulching blades.

Raspberry twist bubble bath with a mango body rub

We have just enjoyed reading our July newsletter. Rob, we have to thank you for a job well done. It is apparent that a lot of work goes into this and we really appreciate it. We had a lot of fun with the Canada Day quiz in the newsletter. You certainly had some interesting questions and we did get some right. For those we didn't answer correctly, we learned the right answer. It really is true, one is never too old to learn. Yes Rob, once again you have given us a great newsletter.

We must tell you about our special guests on Saturday. What a wonderful surprise we had when a wedding party dropped in for a visit. Yes, an entire wedding party in all their gorgeous finery took time out to say hello. Newlyweds Susie and Steve Coumbs took time out to allow us to share in their special occasion. We can't thank them enough. What a generous spirit to think of us on such a memorable day. An event we will treasure! As we mentioned last week Susie is one of our health care workers and we wish her and Steve the very best in their new life together.

Over the last few days we have been fortunate to have a wonderful variety of music to enjoy. Many of us spent a lovely classical afternoon with Vivian and Don. Vivian on piano and Don on violin and what beautiful music! We can't remember the names of the various pieces they played but certainly recognised many of them. It was very relaxing and peaceful just to sit and listen. Our appreciation to Vivian and Don and we do hope you can return again sometime in the future. We look forward to a return concert. Quite a few of us gathered with Jack and Ruth for a fun sing-song and the Norland Hillbillies were here to entertain us for our weekly Pub Night. Our thanks to all our musical friends you're great!

Our Tea Party last week was our Birthday Tea. Time to wish our birthday celebrants a happy birthday. The Health Care Auxiliary was our host and so many people turned out to enjoy their special treats. We really had a crowd out and they weren't disappointed. The treats were lovely and our thanks to our hosts for an enjoyable get-together.

We must thank our craft group for the placemats they made for Canada Day. They were lovely and our home was decorated with red maple leaves everywhere.

Our group is always busy and as soon as one holiday is over they are busy preparing for the next one. We also enjoyed some fresh strawberries for Canada Day, that was a nice treat, "real yummy!"

Our thanks to Rev. Don Wunker who we were pleased to have join us for our Tuesday Chapel Service. Your thoughtfulness is much appreciated.

Senior League

by the Roving Reporters

Margaret Besse partnered with Thelda Weston challenging Olive Wray and Marjorie Watt in a session of cards this week. The winners... Margaret and Thelda won two games to one. It is hoped that soon more players will join them.

The Roving Reporters have grown some in the last little while. Thought it was about time we let you know who we are. Let us introduce ourselves. A few of us have been here for some time others have joined only recently. We are... Vera Stevens, Margaret Besse, Lillian Harrison, Nellie Ranson, Roy Nichols, Ruby Williams, Lillian Millar and today we were pleased to have Thelda Weston join us. We have a lot of fun, not only going over the events of the last few days but we take the time for a little social gathering. Enjoying a cup of coffee and sometimes a treat, all in all a nice way to spend an hour or so. We have fun writing this column and we hope you enjoy it.

One last thing to mention before signing off. A new program has been started called "Leisure Bath" according to its very first customer it is a wonderful experience. Lillian Harrison was the lucky lady and according to Lillian it certainly was very enjoyable. For about an hour she was completely pampered. She was treated to a raspberry twist bubble bath with mango body lotion then blackberry powder, to top it all off mango sparkle gel. Their were scented candles, music playing... shall we go on?

Lilian described the whole affair as absolutely delicious and recommended it highly. With all the senses reeling with the aromas of all the fruit she started she felt like a fruit salad. That really has the rest of us anxious for our turn. Right now one is scheduled per week, hopefully they can speed it up a bit. Many of us can't wait for ours. Could you?

Now it's time to say goodbye, we wish you a good week and look forward to chatting with you next week.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450; email <mindenhouse@on.aibn.com>)

The Canada Day weekend was a mix, wasn't it? Happy 134th Birthday to our country!! Patriotism at its best. So many people in our town to celebrate together. The river banks, the bridge, looking like the years when I was first here, jammed with celebrating people watching the crazy raft race. Lots of people in the street milling around listening to music, buying sausages, kids jumping at their side shows. It would have been great to have even more to participate in. I remember other years with lots of booths, lots of activities, lots to do. The fireworks were spectacular again. Lit up the summer sky!!

On top of all that we didn't think it would be able to happen because of the heavy rain in the morning and then that wind which blew strongly all day. The rafters had to work hard in spite of the strong current in the river and the yellow rubber 'duckies' were blown into bays and couldn't get out!!

Our weather seems to becoming rather extreme. Extremely hot one day and extremely cool (for summer) the next. Phil Graham, what is happening?

Whatever it is, I know we will go on to enjoy these days ahead!!

Here is a wonderful announcement for kids; kids of all ages!! There will be 'Summer Story Hour' every Thursday afternoon at the Minden Public Library from 1 to 2 p.m. Isn't it great to be read to!! There is nothing better than books!!

Here are the Library hours: closed Monday; Tuesday and Wednesday, 10 a.m.-12, and 1-5 p.m.; Thursday 1-5 and 7-9 p.m.; Friday 1-5 p.m. and Saturday 12-5 p.m.

The Zion United Senior Choir is hosting Fishes and Loaves, a fabulous fish fry fund-raiser on Sunday, July 29 at the Zion United Church, Carnarvon. There will be two sittings at 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Adults are $10 for two 'fins' and children under 6 are $5 for one 'fin'. The meal will include fresh fish, salads, dessert, tea and coffee. All tickets must be purchased in advance so that Tom can bring enough fresh fish to fry!! Tickets at available the Cornerstore or from Choir members. You have been given lots of notice for this unique event!!

If you have been missing 'From the Dock', the column written by Ken Brown in SummerTimes, and not seen for a couple of years due to retirement, here is a piece from Ken about a most amazing member of our community:

"It was a most guest-friendly occasion and fun afternoon at the Stone House Bed and Breakfast on Canada Day. The charming proprietor, Phyllis Howarth was the centre of all attention at a celebration to mark her 80th birthday organized by her family. A large gathering of friends and relatives strolled through attractive gardens and walkways, nibbling hors d'oeuvres and marveling at the creative vision and boundless energy of the birthday lady.

Phyllis seems comfortable, equally sipping hot chocolate at a side-walk café in Prague, sipping tea at a tea shop in London or taming the rugged Haliburton terrain from atop her tractor. A strong sense of person and place is quite evident when she is on this piece of her parent's family farm...the place of her birth and childhood at a time when Highway 35 was just a muddy track to Minden. The guests sang as she cut the cake and one and all wished the lovely Phyllis Howarth many happy returns on this very special birthday."

I join Ken in wishing Phyllis a happy birthday. She has been quite a peer in our B & B group in the Haliburton Highlands and an inspiration to us all.

One Stroke Folk Art is back by popular demand at the Kinmount Artisans' Marketplace. Three more classes have been scheduled by Lori Raymond. For information and registration, call Patti at 705-488-2938:

IN MEMORIAM

STAMP, Sid - In loving memory of my loving husband Sid, who passed away July 11, 1985. There is a bridge of golden memories

It keeps me very close to you
It's called the bridge of love.
Every day no matter where
Deep in my heart you are always there.
You left a place no one can fill
My love for you will never fade
You walk with me down quiet paths
And speak in the wind and rain
For the magic power of memories
Gives you back to me again.
Lovingly remembered by

McKELVEY - In loving memory of our Mother Barbara (Daly) McKelvey who was taken from us one year ago today, July 12, 2000.

*We thought of you today mom,
But that was nothing new.
We thought of you yesterday
And days before that too.
We think of you in silence
And often speak your name.
All we have of you are memories
And your picture in a frame.
God has you in His keeping
We have you in our hearts.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone,
For a big part of us went with you
The day God took you home.
We miss and love you so very much mom.
Love from your kids,
Sid & wife Cherie, Margaret & Melinda MacKeigan.*
